James McMullen/ Gone to the Golden Hills

Jim "Mac" McMullen was a California native. Entered the U.S. Army Air Corps just out of high school and retired after 25 years. He was a SAC pilot and he considered the most satisfying achievement of his military career was that his air crew was the first ever to successfully bail out of a B-47 (in North Africa). After retiring from the military he continued in government service (HUD) as a real estate appraiser. Mac was a charter member of Billy Holcomb Chapter and he considered the organization a very significant part of his retirement years.
